Reality, it turns out, is often not what you perceive it to be—sometimes, there really is someone out to get you. For fans of Silver Linings Playbook and Liar, this thought-provoking debut tells the story of Alex, a high school senior—and the ultimate unreliable narrator—unable to tell the difference between real life and delusion. Alex fights a daily battle to figure out what is real and what is not. Armed with a take-no-prisoners attitude, her camera, a Magic 8 Ball, and her only ally (her little sister), Alex wages a war against her schizophrenia, determined to stay sane long enough to get into college. She's pretty optimistic about her chances until she runs into Miles. Didn't she imagine him? Before she knows it, Alex is making friends, going to parties, falling in love, and experiencing all the usual rites of passage for teenagers. But Alex is used to being crazy. She's not prepared for normal. Can she trust herself? Can we trust her?

From the international best-selling author of The Ingenious Language, a meditation on resistance and renewal that is at once a fascinating portrait of antiquity's most complex and surprisingly modern hero. In times of peace and prosperity, one can turn to Homer to learn about life's joys and passions; to experience the thrill and terror of war; to seek adventure in distant lands. But what about when things go wrong? What do we do when we find ourselves at the center of a great epoch-defining upheaval? Then, writes Andrea Marcolongo, it's time to set the Iliad, the Odyssey, and every other classical text aside, and call upon Aeneas. In this lucid, compelling work, Marcolongo shows how Virgil's epic poem is especially suited for our times of crisis and disorientation. In her fresh, nuanced portrayal, Aeneas emerges as a multiform, deeply human hero, one who feels close to us in his vulnerability and capacity for empathy. His journey of rebirth and rebuilding, from the ruins of Troy to the shores of Italy, holds many lessons for our present--chief among them that, even when all seems lost, through resilience and hope we can seek and find new beginnings.

Alessandra ha diciassette anni quando la sua mamma muore dopo una lunga malattia. Rimasta sola con la nonna, torna a scuola decisa a respingere le attenzioni dei compagni che sente estranei, impegnata com'è nella manutenzione del suo dolore. Per questo cambia banco e prende posto vicino a Gabriele detto Zero, la nullità della classe: desidera solo essere ignorata dagli altri, come succede a lui. Ma Zero è più interessante di quanto sembra. Ha una gran passione e un vero talento per il disegno; nella sua apparente noncuranza è attento e sensibile; è lui a soccorrere Ale sbucando inaspettato al suo fianco quando lei ha bisogno di aiuto. Piano piano un sentimento indefinibile prende forma tra le pareti della classe e la spiaggia d'inverno, grigi fondali di una storia semplice e complicata insieme: perché Alessandra è tanto lucida nel rivisitare il ricordo della madre quanto confusa nel prendere le misure di se stessa e di ciò che prova. E Gabriele è abilissimo a sparire proprio quando lei scopre di volerlo vicino. È la voce di Ale, ruvida nel dare conto del presente, dolcissima nell'evocare il passato, a raccontarci la storia di una perdita, una storia di scuola, una goffa, incerta storia d'amore. Il mio inverno a Zerolandia è tutto questo. E dimostra che la somma di due zeri non è zero, ma molto, molto di più.

In his first adventure since the revelation that he's a parent, Dirk Pitt must uncover the truth behind the myth of another long-lost father-figure, Homer's Odysseus, if he's going to stop a dangerous cult from reshaping the earth in their own image. Fraternal twins, Summer Pitt and Dirk Pitt, Jr., are working to determine the origin of a strange brown tide infesting the ocean off the shore of Nicaragua when two startling things happen: Summer discovers an artifact, something strange and beautiful and ancient. And the worst storm in years boils up out of the sky, heading straight for them and a nearby floating luxury resort hotel called Ocean Wanderer. The peril for everybody concerned is incalculable. And now that Dirk Pitt has learned he's a father, he will stop at nothing to protect his two children. He rushes into the chaos, only to find that what's left in the storm's wake makes the furies of nature pale in comparison. For there is an all-too-human evil at work in that part of the world, and Summer's relic may be the only clue to the man calling the shots. Whoever he is, he's connected to a cult that believes the Celts, also known as the Achaeans, reached the New World millennia before the accepted history suggests. If he's right, his ancestors laid the foundation for the work he will soon complete—and our world will be a very different place. Though if Summer's discovery is to be believed, the world is already a very different place...

Bewildering features of modern physics, such as relativistic space-time structure and the peculiarities of so-called quantum statistics, challenge traditional ways of conceiving of objects in space and time. Interpreting Bodies brings together essays by leading philosophers and scientists to provide a unique overview of the implications of such physical theories for questions about the nature of objects. The collection combines classic articles by Max Born, Werner Heisenberg, Hans Reichenbach, and Erwin Schrodinger with recent contributions, including several papers that have never before been published. The book focuses on the microphysical objects that are at the heart of quantum physics and addresses issues central to both the "foundational" and the philosophical debates about objects. Contributors explore three subjects in particular: how to identify a physical object as an individual, the notion of invariance with respect to determining what objects are or could be, and how to relate objective and measurable properties to a physical entity. The papers cover traditional philosophical topics, common-sense questions, and technical matters in a consistently clear and rigorous fashion, illuminating some of the most perplexing problems in modern physics and the philosophy of science. The contributors are Diederik Aerts, Max Born, Elena Castellani, Maria Luisa Dalla Chiara, Bas C. van Fraassen, Steven French, Gian Carlo Ghirardi, Roberto Giuntini, Werner Heisenberg, Decio Krause, David Lewis, Tim Maudlin, Peter Mittelstaedt, Giulio Peruzzi, Hans Reichenbach, Erwin Schrodinger, Paul Teller, and Giuliano Toraldo di Francia.
